“The MAN V12X marks the start of the neXt generation of yacht engines. We are acknowledging this milestone in engine technology with the new name V12X and giving the distinctive engine cover an X design. The redesign of the MAN V12X is accompanied by eXtra displacement for shipyards. As always, we have retained the eXcellent power-to-weight ratio that MAN engines are known for,” explains Werner Kübler, Head of Engineering MAN Engines.

The first example of the MAN V12X will be on display from 6th to 11th September at the Cannes Yachting Festival 2022 at the MAN Engines stand, Jetée 173, Vieux Port.
